The Journal of Applied Corporate Finance is partially underwritten by the High Meadows Foundation, a private non-profit grant-making foundation focused on investing in and promoting creative yet workable ideas to address the complex environmental and social issues facing the world. To do so, we engage with local and international organizations in three key programmatic areas: the environment, education, and business + society. Statement on Research4Life
Wiley is a founding member of the UN-backed HINARI, AGORA, and OARE initiatives. They are now collectively known as Research4Life, making online scientific content available free or at nominal cost to researchers in developing countries and enabling more researchers to publish open access by providing publisher backed waivers and discounts. Please visit Wiley's Content Access – Corporate Citizenship site: <https://www.wiley.com/en-us/corporate-responsibility>

Journal of Applied Corporate Finance accepts articles for Open Access publication. Please visit <https://authorservices.wiley.com/author-resources/Journal-Authors/open-access/onlineopen.html> for further information about OnlineOpen.

ESG (Environmental, Social, Governance) is essential to Wiley's mission of unlocking human potential. For over two centuries, Wiley has a history of helping the world's researchers, learners, innovators, and leaders achieve their goals and solve the world's most important challenges. We take our role as a corporate citizen seriously and are guided by transparency, accountability, and industry best practices. Through intentional climate action and strategic social impact, ESG advances Wiley's commitment to sustainability, positive impact, and leading global change.
